Dear Our Lady of the Way Community,

Welcome back to a new term of learning! At our morning assembly last Monday, we launched into the new school term with the slogan of jumping into our learning and that we certainly have. There has been a wonderful buzz throughout the school as students and staff dived into new learning opportunities and units of work. Kindergarten have been to the farm and have new life hatching each day as they learn about living things. Our Music room has returned to its original home next to Year 3 and the children have loved having Mrs McGregor back from leave, sharing her love of the arts with the children. Already we have sent teams to the Stage 2 Soccer Gala day, celebrated Edward Lennon's success at the PSSA Cross Country carnival and students across the school have been enjoying learning the skills of playing baseball during sport lessons.

Throughout Week One our school celebrated NAIDOC Week, taking time to learn more about our Indigenous community and culture. To learn more about the learning experiences for each grade read the article later in the newsletter.

As you are aware, Kindergarten has undergone a refurbishment over the summer holidays and into this year. The children were thrilled today as they took their first steps into their new outdoor learning environment and sensory garden. With just a few small additions still to come, the space is now open for our Kinder students to learn and play. There will also be opportunities for our whole school to utilise this wonderful new addition to our school. There will be an open classroom for Kindergarten parents to come and explore the full learning space with their children before assembly on Friday 9th August from 2-2:30pm. The wider community will be welcome to visit during our celebrations of learning following our Father's Day liturgy.

As we continue to learn and grow together this term we will remember to Live Respectfully, Act Responsibly and Learn Together.

In partnership,

Emma Mizzi
Acting Principal

OLOW Celebrates NAIDOC Week

Our Lady of the Way began our school term with a prayer for NAIDOC Week, celebrated nationally during the holidays. In this prayer and throughout the week, as a school community we celebrated our Australian Indigenous cultures. We reflected upon the 2019 theme VOICE - TREATY - TRUTH and how all Australians can unite together for a shared future.

Year 5 and Kindergarten played some modern version of Indigenous Games.

Kindergarten also learned about dot painting as a traditional artform for some Indigenous groups and created their own artworks on rocks for their new garden.

Year 2 learned also about dot painting as a traditional artform for some Indigenous groups.

Year 1 created artworks, learning about how symbols were used to set a story.

Year 4 reflected on the 2019 NAIDOC Week poster and theme.
Here are some of their reflections:

*We should all share one voice.
Acknowledge Aboriginal land.
Pay our respect to sacred, Aboriginal land.
We all belong, we all have the same rights.*

AWAKEN:
Acknowledge the people of the land, empathising together for a shared future.

VOICE:
To have a say; different languages; the importance of talking & communicating; to be heard and to be listened to; the right to speak and the right to be listened to; everyone help to make our future better and speak up.

TREATY:
Treating others the way you want to be treated; treating everyone equally; agreement amongst two groups; acknowledging the past & looking to the future.

TRUTH:
Saying sorry; being honest; telling the truth; being fair & showing respect; true owners of the land.

Year 6 spent time reading traditional dreaming stories. They also started a new unit in Geography where they began exploring natural landforms in Australia. From there, they wrote their own Dreaming stories describing how famous landforms in Australia were made.

The Emus By Marcus Skinner

A long time ago, in the dreaming, there lived Emus that partied every night all night. One night the Emus of the land partied all night banging and crashing. They were partying so hard, they were pushing the land down. They soon realized their feet were under water, but that didn't stop them. The more they partied the deeper they went under water, but it still didn't stop them. They partied so hard they awoke the sky Gods making them angry, releasing all of it in a storm flooding Lake Eyre. The Emus ran and ran but most of them did not survive, Lake Eyre was flooding taking the Emus with it. That's how Lake Eyre Flooded.

Roo By Shanyah Kubik

Many years ago lived a Kangaroo called Roo. Roo and his tribe loved their lands and they didn't want to change anything and all the lands and animals were happy.

The land wasn't surrounded with a lot of trees and their land was flat. It never occurred to them that they had to change anything or move anywhere else. Every night Roo and his tribe would come together and draw stories in the ground as a reminder that they have lived there for many years and that was their home.

One day Roo and his tribe went to collect some food. When they came back they all came together again and thought about the lands and saw what they could change. Roo was angry at his tribe for what they had said about them changing the land, He quickly said that it wasn't right and that it was their home and that everyone was happy.

But when he said that his tribe didn't listen to him so Roo went off and started jumping up and down in one spot until he thought he should go back to his tribe. A few days went past and Roo was still mad and he went back to where he was jumping and realised something was different... there were hills...?! He quickly went to his tribe and told them. It took a while for Roo to convince them to come but they finally agreed. As soon as they saw the hills everything changed. Everyone was happier with their new land and it was better than before, Roo was right that they shouldn't have thought about changing their land.

This was many years ago and Roo and his tribe are remembered and now the humans have called the hills Mt Kosciuszko.

How the Great Sandy Desert Was Made By Brody Green

One day, in the dreamtime, Wakanda the frog was leaping around with glee in a luscious rainforest.

While Wakanda was jumping around with his friends, they decided to play a game. The game was tip.

As they were playing, Wakanda was in and he was leaping at max speed, completely unaware of the log that was in front of him. A few seconds later, he tripped over it and landed on poor Jimmy the frog's big toe, which was now broken. After he stood up, Jimmy gathered all of his other frog friends except for Wakanda to decide what his punishment should be. One friend said he should go in time out, but they didn't agree. Someone else yelled out that they should break Wakanda's big toe, but they wanted a more severe punishment. Finally, Jimmy came up with the perfect idea, they shall hang him over the campfire and burn him. Everyone agreed.

Later that night, Jimmy invited Wakanda to sit at the campfire with him, but as he entered the camp site, he noticed there was a stand with a rope attached. He asked why it was there, Jimmy just shrugged his shoulders. Wakanda wasn't feeling right the whole night, he noticed it was a bit suspicious. Two cold hands suddenly grabbed Wakanda's shoulders unexpectedly. It was two of Jimmy's friends. They hung him up on the rope and before he even knew it, he had exploded into a massive pile of sand that covered the whole entire rainforest.

And that's how the Great Sandy desert we have today was created.

Year 3 ~ After learning all about Aboriginal Dreaming stories last term, Year 3 enjoyed sharing their stories with their peers.

KINDER EXCURSIONS TO CALMSLEY HILL FARM

Last Thursday, Kindergarten embarked on an adventure to Calmsley Hill Farm. The excitement level was high as we boarded the buses and adventures throughout the day did not disappoint!

We learnt many interesting facts and thoroughly enjoyed patting animals, riding on the tractor, milking a cow and watching the whip cracking, sheep dog and shearing shows.

We would like to thank our parent volunteers who were a great help throughout the day!

Some interesting facts we learnt are...

A male donkey is called a Jack and a female donkey is called a Jenny.

Baby rabbits are called kittens.

Ducks and geese have webbed feet to help them paddle through the water.

Milk is used to make cream, butter, yoghurt, cheese and lots of other yummy things.

We can drink milk that comes from cows, goats and camels.

The big pools of water on farms are called dams.

Sheep dogs are very clever and very funny too!

NED'S MINDSET MISSION

On the 6th of August, Our Lady of the Way Primary School is invited to experience NED's Mindset Mission - an in-school performance that helps children discover the benefits of having a positive mindset!

The performance uses storytelling, puppetry, illusions and yo-yo tricks to take our students on an entertaining journey with NED where he follows clues, meets memorable characters and learns valuable lessons.

Firstly, NED meets a yeti who teaches him to overcome Mt. Everest's toughest obstacles and Never Give Up. With Captain Kindly, NED discovers inner treasures on a Caribbean island and how to Encourage Others. Finally, while repairing a sputtering spaceship, NED grows his brain while learning the message Do Your Best.

Through this performance, our students will learn about:

To support the performance, a selection of NED messaged items – primarily yo-yo's like the ones used in the assembly will be available for sale between the 6th to the 10th August. We will be establishing a NED ZONE (Yo-Yo Practice area) for students to use their yo-yos safely at school.

Yours in partnership,

Linda Flanagan

Stage 2 Soccer Gala Day

On Tuesday 30th July, 32 fabulous students from Stage 2 participated in the Soccer Gala Day held at Jamison Park. We had 1 girls and 2 boys teams take part in the competition. Each of them played many games and came up against some tough teams throughout the day, but the children's energy and enthusiasm didn't waver.

All students showed a great amount of sportsmanship throughout the day and were very respectful to all opponents they came across - they certainly did OLOW proud!

Well done to the girls and Year 3 boy's teams who both experienced wins, draws and loses. A special mention needs to go to the Year 4 boy's team who took out their competition and were champions for their pool, coming away with a medal!

Thank you also to our volunteer coaches; Mr Reeks, Mr Lohan and Mr McDonald and managers; Mr Dwyer and Mr MacLennan - without you the day would not have been the success that it was!
